What worked: Promo code RIVERSIDE accounts (452 at £600 each, grade B); Qualified leads tagged to partnership (1,210 at £40 each, grade B); New SME accounts, club region vs control region (60 at £600 each, grade A). Under-delivered or under-used: Hospitality seats (64% of contracted); Sponsored social posts (85% of contracted). Objectives below target: Generate qualified leads (81% of target); Use hospitality allocation (64% of target).

| Rank | Outcome | Value | Grade |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 | Promo code RIVERSIDE accounts | £271,200 | B |
| 2 | Regional deposit growth above trend | £60,000 | C |
| 3 | Qualified leads tagged to partnership | £48,400 | B |
| 4 | New SME accounts, club region vs control region | £36,000 | A |

8. Recommended next-year package

Keep: the assets and activations behind the tracked outcomes above. Fix or cut: Hospitality seats, Sponsored social posts, which delivered below 90%. Add: tracking on every new asset from day one. Price logic: with £355,600 of tracked value against £180,000 of cost, the evidence supports renewing at the current fee or higher.

9. Measurement plan for next season

For next season: a unique promo code per channel; a dedicated landing page with UTM links on every sponsor post; a CRM source tag for partnership leads; and a comparison region or period without the sponsorship, so outcomes can reach grade A.

Formulas

- Delivery rate = average across assets of delivered ÷ contracted
- Objective attainment = actual ÷ target, capped at 150%
- Attributed revenue = tracked outcomes (A and B) × value per outcome
- Cost per outcome = total partnership cost ÷ tracked outcomes
- Renewal health = weighted sum of the five component scores

We never present media value as revenue, never show a single ROI figure without its grade and range, use aggregate data only, and never train AI models on customer data. Calculations are fixed formulas; narrative text was drafted from those figures and reviewed by hand.
